THE ANTHENAUM TO-NIGHT.

The annual banquet of the Athenaeum Literary Society, the fifteenth of the series, will be unique and novel in that it will be a banquet without anything to eat. Out of compliment to Mr. Hoover it is not only meatless and wheatless but absolutely eatless. The thirty members with their wives or sweethearts and an equal number of guests usually constitute the banqueters, but this time only about 80 "covers" are to be laid. The guests will assemble in the parlors of Hotel Latham at 8:15 and repair to the dining room at 9 o'clock to indulge in a feast of reason with perhaps a little punch.

Trotzky, who helped to wreck Russia, is now bemoaning the fact that Russia has no army. The Huns are overrunning all of the eastern part of the country with no show of opposition.

An agreement has been reached by paper mill owners and employees to extend the present scale of wages until a new one can be drawn up. This agreement will avert a strike.

The French trade commission has issued complaints against 23 tea and coffee companies charging unfair practices and conducting lotteries.

Emperor Charles, of Austria, is said to be again getting very anxious for peace.

Pugilist Vic Moran's wife has sued him for divorce because he lost his fight with Jack Britton.

Dr. Charles Maria de Pena, minister from Uruguay, died in Washington, Tuesday.

One saloon quit May 1, but there are still 22 left.

AMERICANS MUST LEARN SWIMMING

SOLDIERS IN ALL TRAINING CAMPS TO BE TAUGHT DURING COMING SUMMER.

Swimming is to be taught soldiers in the training camps this summer as a military requirement under plans announced by the Commission on Training Camp Activities. Competent instructors will be provided at each cantonment and where adequate water facilities do not exist they will be provided.

"Ability to swim," said the commission's announcement, "is regarded as highly valuable in the army because many times a soldier is compelled to swim streams where bridges and boats are not available. In the present instance it is of particular value because of the war zone, for when a ship is torpedoed it has been found that the man who can swim is invariably saved as he is able to keep afloat until the lifeboats or rescue vessels reach him."

During the year 1912 and 1913, the city of Hopkinsville maintained a swimming pool in the river, erecting a dam for the purpose, and many of the boys who have now gone to the front learned to be expert swimmers. The dam is still in the river but for some unknown reason the floodgate is left open and the river is allowed to go dry in summer. Three years ago 300 High School pupils signed a petition to have the floodgate closed but it was not formally presented to the council and no effort has since been made to fill the river bed for use in summer.

ON LAST LAP.

(By International News Service.) Washington, May 1.—The Treasury announced to-night that $2,579,079,400 has been subscribed to the Liberty Loan.

Miss Agnes Reed Binford of Fulton, Ky., is the guest of Miss Mary Danforth on East 9th street.

Mrs. A. M. Wallis and Mrs. J. H. Brown are in Louisville to meet Mr. Fred A. Wallis, who has been called to Lexington by the death of a relative of his wife.

T. J. Baugh left on the midnight train for Louisville and will be gone a couple of days.

HUNS BUSY BURYING DEAD

AMERICAN STEAMER ATHENS RAMMED BY CRUISER AND SUNK

Seventy four Lives Lost, Including 12 United States Marines Corps Recruits Enroute to a Training Camp.

(By International News Service.)

Atlantic Port, May 1.—The coastwise steamer, Athens, was rammed early to-day off the Virginia Capes by a French cruiser. Seventy-four of the passengers and crew are reported drowned. She went down in seven minutes after being struck. The survivors were picked up by a cruiser and brought here this evening. Among the drowned were twelve United States Marine Corps recruits who left New York Tuesday afternoon for a Southern training station. Five survivors of the party of twenty-four arrived here this evening. Late to-night the dead were placed at 69, passengers and crew. The ship collided while running at a fair speed in a dense fog. The city of Athens was struck on her star board side near bow and sank in seven minutes. Fire which started immediately after the collision added to the panic.

BIG BUNCH ROUNDED UP

BOPP, VON BRINCKEN AND VON SCHACK FINED $10,000 EACH GIVEN PRISON TERMS

San Francisco, Calif., May 1.—One lurid chapter in the history of Germany's intrigue to win mastery of the world was closed Tuesday when United States District Judge William C. Van Fleet pronounced sentence upon twenty-nine German-Americans and Hindus convicted of having conspired to overthrow British rule in India.

The trial of the principals in the world wide conspiracy was a series of sensations including exposure of criminal German diplomacy and the shooting to death of two Hindu defendants in the courtroom a week ago.

The total of the prison terms imposed was twenty-three and two-thirds years, and the fines totalled $64,000.

Louis T. Hengstler, San Francisco admiralty lawyer, was the only defendant to escape a prison sentence. Judge Van Fleet remitted a jail term of four months after Hengstler made a plea to the court, asserting his Americanism and denouncing German imperialism. A fine of $5,000 remained against him.

Guilt for the conspiracy was placed squarely on the German supreme command. Judge Van Fleet characterizing the Hindu conspirators as mere catpaws of the "ruthless Prussian military system." He told them that they had their revolution succeeded and had they been placed under such a system they would have spared no effort to escape it.

The German foreign office embassy at Washington and consulate at San Francisco were the nerve centers for the world wide plot to wrest India from England. Judge Van Fleet declared in sentencing Franz Bopp, Wilhelm von Brincken and E. von Schack the heads of the consulate. Bopp and von Schack were given the maximum sentences provided by the laws for violation of neutrality, two years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine each. Von Brincken was sentenced to run concurrently with a similar judgment hanging over him as a result of his conviction for participating in bomb and dynamiting plots against the government in Canada.

Private J. C. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Johnson, sailed Monday for France from an Atlantic port.

PRESIDENT MAKES OFFER

WANT'S BOND BUYERS TO JOIN HIM IN TAKING ONE MORE BOND.

The editor of the Kentuckian last night received the following telegram from Wm. McCormick Blair, director of the Four Minute Men of the Committee on Public Information.

Washington, D. C., May 1. Chas. M. Meacham, Hopkinsville, Ky.

Notify all speakers to make this proposition to all audiences:

President Wilson realizing the vital necessity of increasing the number and size of individual subscriptions, says he has already bought to his limit but offers to buy one more fifty dollar bond on the installment plan at the rate of seventeen cents daily and asks how many in all American audiences will match him for new or additional subscriptions, his offer being made simultaneously to every meeting in America just as if he were present. Have all speakers pound this hard at every meeting and secure subscriptions.

BLAIR.

KENTUCKY FUTURITY

TWO HUNDRED AND TWENTY-THREE ENROLLED FOR 1918 ENTRIES.

Lexington, Ky., May 1.—Two hundred and twenty-three breeders have made entries in the Kentucky Futurity for foals of 1918, according to the announcement from the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' association. Eight hundred and ninety-nine nominations have been received, and of this number the Patchen-Wilkes farm of W. E. D. Stokes leads with ninety-eight. The Walnut Hill farm of the late L. V. Harkness is second with eighty-five, while J. R. Magowan of Mt. Sterling, Ky., ranks third with fifty.

An examination of the list enclosed 110 different stallions represented. Of these the records of six range from 1:58 1/4 to 2:05, while a total of twenty are in the 2:10 class. Seven are themselves futurity winners, while two have sired futurity winners.

The list of stallions is headed jointly by San Francisco and Peter Volo, with 64 mares to the credit of each. J. Malcolm Forbes is third with 56; Peter the Great, fourth, with 45, and Guy Axworthy, fifth, with 42.

Kentucky leads the states in the number of entries, with 398; New York is second, with 76; Ohio is third, with 73; Indiana, fourth, with 72, and Pennsylvania, fifth, with 47. Other states and the number of entries from them follow: Massachusetts, 37; Wisconsin, 37; Illinois, 27; Nebraska, 23; Michigan, 15; West Virginia, 13; Alabama, 10; Texas, 10; New Jersey, 7; Tennessee and Iowa, 6 each; Maryland, Connecticut, Missouri and Canada, 5 each; Georgia, 4; Arkansas, New Hampshire and California, 3; Kansas, 2; Minnesota, Oklahoma, North Dakota, South Carolina, North Carolina and Colorado, 1 each.

ON ALL FRONTS.

British casualties reported in April reached a total of 52,475, divided as follows:

Killed or died of wounds: Officers 1,621, men 7,723.
Wounded or missing: Officers 7,447; men 39,664.

ALIEN ENEMY IS ACCUSED

PROSECUTING ATT'Y CLAIMS TO HAVE WITNESSES AGAINST SCHUMANN.

(By International News Service.)

Concord, N. H., May 1.—Warrants were issued here today for the arrest of Otto Schumann, an interned alien enemy, for the murder of Mrs. Maude A. King. It is alleged that Schumann shot Mrs. King while trying to kill Gaston B. Means who was later accused of the shooting and was tried and acquitted of the murder. The prosecuting attorney claims he has two witnesses who saw Schumann at Blackwelder Springs on the night of the tragedy and saw him hurry away on a motorcycle after the shot was heard.

BIG CRACK IN LIBERTY BELL

RECEIVES BIG LOT COINS FOR BELGIAN AND FRENCH ORPHAN CHILDREN.

The big Liberty Bell sat on the corner in front of Cook's drug store all day yesterday and by a few deaf ears its peals were not heard. But these ears were few and did not often pass that way. The old bell did not ring out in the clear clarion-like tones to be heard by the ears as she was heard in 1776, but now its peals are changed to appeals and they have come to us from across the deep and dark blue ocean from an impoverished land and outraged people made so by the horrifying cruelties of a war-mad and damnable lot of blood-thirsty Huns.

All day yesterday Misses Nora Golliday, Lena Clark, Bess Thomas, Katherine Cook, Florence Bassett and Mrs. Edwina Smith, captained by Mrs. Ira L. Smith and Miss Mary Clark, worked faithfully on the street corners reminding passersby that there are thousands of little orphan Belgian and French children in the devastated sections of those countries and suggested that they drop a coin into the big bell for the support of those little ones. People had only to be reminded and the coin was forthcoming. All who gave a coin were decorated with a lily-of-the-valley, and everybody at night fall was wearing a flower. Many gave quarters, half-dollars and dollars. The largest donation of the day was $10 by Mr. T. J. McReynolds.

When the money in the bell was counted last night it amounted to $161.85. The committee stated last night that the generosity of the farmers in contributing to this cause deserved much praise.

The fund collected yesterday will be added to the $103 collected at the Tabernacle on Parade Day and sent through New York to Gen. Joffre in France, who is at the head of the commission in France which is looking after the welfare of the orphan children.

The people are being aroused in this country as never before to the grim necessities of sacrifices and many are willing to pour their wealth into this great war flood if it will only win the conflict for humanity and democracy.

HOUSING BILL PASSES SENATE

(By International News Service.)

Washington, May 1.—A bill appropriating $60,000,000 for housing war workers in arsenals, munition plants, navy yards, etc., passed by Senate this afternoon. It now goes to the House.

SEC'Y LANSING WILL TALK

GROWING DEMAND IN CONGRESS FOR WAR AGAINST BULGARIA AND TURKEY.

(By International News Service.)

Washington, May 1.—Secretary of State Lansing will appear before the Foreign Relation Committee of the Senate to-morrow for a formal discussion of the future relations between the United States, Bulgaria, and Turkey. The conference is made necessary on account of the growing demand in Congress for a declaration of war against the two countries, which are allied with Germany and still not classed as enemies of the United States. President Wilson's view will be made known to the committee when Secretary Lansing makes his appearance before them.

FALLS 60 FEET FROM BUGGY

A RUNAWAY HORSE RUNS AGAINST DUMMY POLICE AT NINTH AND MAIN.

Much excitement was aroused last night just after 9 o'clock when a horse driven by Leslie Long came down the hill from S. Main street at break-neck speed and ran the buggy against the concrete center piece at the Ninth and Main crossing. Many persons were on the streets at that hour and witnessed the accident.

The left fore wheel of the buggy struck the concrete pillow and stripped the wheel clean from the hub. The speed of the horse was so great that the driver, according to reliable witnesses, fell 45 feet away and slid 12 or 15 feet after the fall. The horse belonged to Dr. Isbell and was caught by Jarred Renshaw and others when it fell on the sidewalk with the buggy hung up on the light post in front of the Bank of Hopkinsville. The buggy was almost completely wrecked.

Leslie Long came to Hopkinsville Monday and is studying under Dr. Isbell for a veterinary surgeon. He came from Chicago. After being thrown from the buggy he was picked up unconscious and revived and led to the office of Dr. Stites where he was examined by Drs. Stites and Bell and found not seriously hurt but considerably bruised about the limbs and dazed for some time. A late report last night said he was doing nicely.

AT JENNIE STUART HOSPITAL.

Moscoe Brummett, a medical patient, ill with pneumonia, shows improvement.

Miss Elizabeth Carver underwent an operation yesterday and is doing nicely.

Master William McCullom was very low last night, with his condition more critical than it had been at any time heretofore.

HAIG'S GUNS HAVE GIVEN THE INVADERS NO REST, BUT SHOT AND SHELL AND BOMBS OF GAS HAVE ADDED TO THE VICTIMS OF SUICIDE BEND.

NEW CANNON FOOD BROUGHT UP

(By International News Service.)

London, May 1.—This was a sombre May day for the German troops in Flanders. Gloom hung heavily in the air. Death was omnipresent, it came rolling across in waves of gas, with which British and French man-teled Mount Kemmel. It thundered from the throats of Field Marshal Haig's heaviest pieces all along suicide bend. So vast in number were those killed and wounded in Monday's vain onslaughts, that the salvage work was still in full swing late to-day and the German commanders could give no thought to new assaults. German heavy artillery got busy in the afternoon, however, and by to-morrow a new storm is expected to break loose.

London, May 1.—A Franco-British bombardment of Mount Kemmel with gas shells is reported to-night by the Reuters correspondent at the Flanders front. He adds that the Germans spent the entire day collecting their wounded and burying their dead.

London, May 1.—Heavy shelling in the region of Bethune and Loere, towns in Flanders, is reported to-night in Gen. Haig's report.

NO STRIKE OF TELEGRAPHERS

(By International News Service.)

Washington, May 1.—There will be no strike of commercial telegraphers pending the appearance of Representatives of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies next Wednesday before National War Board. The announcement was made to-night by the president of the telegraphers' union.

2ND DISTRICT INSTITUTE

OF CHRISTIAN CHURCHES OPENED THREE DAY SESSION LAST NIGHT.

Between fifty and seventy-five delegates had arrived last night for the opening session of the Second District Institute of Christian churches, which began a three-day session at the Ninth street Christian church. A fine program has been arranged and many subjects of interest and importance to members of this church will be discussed by able and well informed delegates and visitors.

In the absence of the president Mr. C. C. Omer, the vice-president, presided at the opening session, and Mr. A. H. Eckles delivered the welcoming address. This honor was to have fallen to L. K. Wood but he was compelled to be absent on account of the serious illness of his mother.

The notable features last night were special music by a chorus of 50 voices and the orchestra and an address by E. B. Barnes, of Paducah, who spoke instead of E. L. Miley.

Some of the notables in attendance are: E. L. Miley, Hickman; Mrs. W. C. Stanley, Louisville; J. S. Hilton, of the Widows and Orphans Home, Louisville; and Chancellor Homer W. Carpenter, Transylvania University, Lexington.

All delegates present, and any others who may arrive today, are being entertained in the homes of members and at the hotels.

An interesting program will fill the day and everybody is invited to attend and hear the discussions and other features.

FIVE BIG ONES

(By International News Service.)

New York, May 1.—Five banking houses to-day subscribed thirty million dollars to Liberty Loans.

GOVERNMENT TO TAKE WOOL

(By International News Service.)

Washington, May 1.—The war needs for woolen goods resulted today in the war industries board announcing that all available wool in the country will be taken over by the Government.

MAY DAY WEDDING BELLS

MISS GRACE SALLEE AND MR. MUKE NELSON, JR., PLIGHTED THEIR TROTH.

In a beautiful church wedding at five o'clock yesterday afternoon, at Grace Episcopal church, Miss Grace Sallee became the bride of Mr. Muncan Hunt Nelson, Jr. The church was elaborately decorated for the occasion and was filled with the friends of the young couple. Miss Clara Bonte presided at the organ and played the wedding march.

Messrs. Ben Moore, Phil Thompson, Whit Radford and John Gunn were the ushers and following them came the matron of honor, Mrs. Phil Thompson, the bride's sister, and the bridesmaid, Miss Florence Bush.

Then came the beautiful bride upon the arm of her brother, Mr. Garrett Sallee. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man Mr. Hugh Nelson, his brother.

The double ring ceremony was used by Rev. Geo. C. Abbott, who impressively united the pair in the bonds of matrimony according to the ritual of the Episcopal church.

The bride was attired in a going away coat suit of midnight blue cloth. She wore a cream colored georgette waist with a touch of blue and carried a corsage bouquet of Sunburst roses and lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson left at once for a brief trip and will be at home next week at their suburban farm on the Palmyra pike, adjoining the Country Club. The groom is one of Hopkinsville's most prominent young men, a representative of one of the county's pioneer families. He is a splendid type of the progressive young farmers who are making Christian one of the greatest counties in Kentucky. His bride is the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac G. Sallee, and is one of Hopkinsville's loveliest girls, bright, beautiful and attractive.

The young couple were the recipients of many beautiful and useful bridal presents, that attested the esteem in which they are held by a wide circle of friends.

If the government had "allowed the commerce in wheat to take its natural course," flour would be selling at the mill to-day for $10
to $10.50 and probably "rioting would have been experienced in all our centers of congested population of a violence that leads to blood in our gutters," declared Herbert Hoover
in an address in New York.

Mr. Hoover spoke at a conference of 160 representative American grain dealers and officials of the food administration grain division, called to discuss grain exports and regulation of cereal consumption in this country.

Asserting that when flour went to $16.75 a barrel at the mill door last May, resulting hardships dislocated our entire economic life, Mr. Hoover said he did not accuse the grain trade of having been responsible for the situation, but rather blamed the fact that the allies had to have wheat priced and were prepared to pay any price for it.

"A series of speculations sprang up that were deplorable beyond words," he said, "but only a microscopic portion of this speculation
was of deliberate or vicious nature.
There was no concerted manipulation.
There was total disturbance
to the law of supply and demand."

two million pairs of field welt shoes at a price ranging from $6.75 to $8.49 was announced by the war department. The shoes will range in size from 5 1/2 to 16 and deliveries will begin July 1. The highest bid accepted was $9.17 per pair for metallic fastened field shoes ranging in size from 12 1/2 to 15.

Three members of the American

the navy department announced, in the ship's fight with a submarine,

several men were injured, but made no mention of any having been killed. The Chincha beat off the submersible after firing about thirty shots.

"A SPLENDID TONIC"

Says Hixson Lady Who, On Doctor's Advice, Took Cardui
And Is Now Well.

Hixson, Tenn.—"About 10 years ago I was..." says Mrs. J. B. Gadd, of this place. "I suffered with a pain in my left side, could not sleep at night
with this pain, always in the left side..."

My doctor told me to use Cardui. I took one bottle, which helped me and after my baby came, I was stronger and better, but the pain was still there.

I at first let it go, but began to get weak and in a run-down condition,
so I decided to try some more Cardui,
which I did.

This last Cardui which I took made me much better, in fact, cured me. It has been a number of years, still I have no return of this trouble.
I feel it was Cardui that cured me,
and I recommend it as a splendid female tonic.

Don't allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. It should surely help you, as it has so many thousands of other women in the past 40 years. Headache, backache, sideache, neuritis, sleeplessness, tired-out
feeling, are all signs of womanly trouble. Other women get relief by taking Cardui. Why not you? All druggists.

A Successful Experiment

By GORTON CARRUTH

(Copyright, 1918, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

He put his paper aside abruptly, rose and walked down the leaf-strewn path to the other bench, where the girl was sitting.

"Would you like to try an experiment?" he asked quietly, standing with hat in hand before her.

She looked at him for a moment
unsmiling, her expression neither inviting nor repelling.

"Perhaps," she said at length.

He sank into the seat beside her.

"It is something I have often wanted to try," he said slowly. "Here are we two, perfect strangers in a city of five millions, and never likely to see each other again after we leave this chance meeting place. We have sat here for half an hour, each pretending to read,
or to watch the squirrels, or the falling leaves, or the misty golden sunshine
out there on the field, but each examining and appraising the other when the other wasn't looking."

"Now, this is the experiment: We have each gained a strong first impression of the other. Let us, with absolutely frankness, tell each other what those impressions are. Let us do what friends cannot do—speak without reservations, made for fear of hurting each other's feelings."

She sat without speaking for a moment after he had finished, gazing thoughtfully out at the warm expanse
of autumn-tinted park.

"But why?" she asked at last. "I am not sure that Burns was right.
Perhaps it is just as well that we can't see ourselves as others see us."

"That," he said, "makes it an experiment. It will be a new experience. I want to know exactly how I look in the eyes of a stranger, however much the knowledge may hurt. Have you ever felt that way?"

"Yes," she said. "I have. Everyone does, I think."

"Well, I'll tell you, if you will do as much for me."

Again she hesitated and sat silently
watching a gray squirrel that untrou-bled by self-consciousness, was busy burying a nut.

"Well," she said finally, "you first."

"The fact that I came over here and proposed this experiment to you at all shows that I thought you a sensible girl," he began slowly. "You impressed me as being neither a prude nor a flirt. You are pretty—I don't need to tell you that—but it has not spoiled
you. You are rather thoughtful and studious, and you have a genuine feeling for the beauties of nature—something which too many girls just pretend to have. You are not above, I believe, taking an interest in babies
and embroidery, although you know what is going on about you in the world and read something besides the woman's page in the newspapers. You don't work for your living, and your home is one of the comfortable houses in the Seventies. You see a good deal of the society side of life, but you keep healthfully busy at serious things. You are probably a suffragist in a quiet way, and you are also interested in some form of social or philanthropic work, which you do not treat as an heroically assumed duty. And—"

He was interrupted by the girl's low laughter. "Why not say that I have all the good qualities, and be done with it?" she asked. "Your impression is certainly not very accurate. Let's see if I can do better."

"You, it seems to me, have many of the excellent qualities that you are attributing to me. You are nothing of a 'sport,' but are a rather seriousminded young man, somewhat too much given to introspection. You are not bad looking, and you impress me

as having a good deal of common sense.
You are about twenty-five, and you are one of our rising young professional men—an architect, perhaps, or an engineer of some sort. You read a good deal, and when it comes to newspapers, something besides the sporting pages. You are rather domestic by nature, and you have a sense of humor.
You also live in one of the better homes in the Seventies or the Eighties, and you are a confirmed New Yorker. There, how is that for a snapshot portrait?"

He did not answer at once, and they both sat silently for a few minutes.
Presently he said gloomily:

"My experiment has failed, I'm afraid."

"Of course," she assented gently.

"It was bound to. It shows of how little worth a first impression is, anyway. You wondered if the defects that you see in yourself were apparent to others, and you are half disappointed that they are not, for you do not like the idea of wearing a mask. Isn't that it?"

"Yes."

"And yet you must have known, except in moments of self-deprecation,
that you make a favorable first impression; and I know that I do, considered as that may sound."

"All right," he straightened up abruptly. "Then we come to the second part of this experiment. We will now tell just how badly each of us is mistaken."

"Well—" she hesitated. "We can try it, but that also is a pretty hard thing to do."

"Listen to me first," he answered,
"while I tell you what a poor judge of character at first glance you are. I may have a sense of humor, but it doesn't work very well. I am gloomy, pessimistic and am rapidly developing into a chronic grouch. I am not one of our rising young professional men;
I am a clerk in a large mercantile house, and there hasn't been anything startling in my rise yet. I may have common sense, but it doesn't keep me from making a fool of myself about half the time. I may be domestic by nature, but that's all the good it does me. So far from living in a brown-stone house in the Eighties am I that I live in a single room down in the Twenties. I come from Michigan and am a comparative stranger in New York. I read a good deal, it is true, and you are right about the sporting page, but I don't believe that I ever had an original idea in my life. And —well, I might go on at considerable length, but how do you like the retouched portrait, so far?"

"The girl was laughing at him again.
"I think the portrait none the worse,"
said she; "especially since you are clearly in a mood for self-disparagement. Let me alter your portrait of me a little. I hope that I am sensible.
I'm not a flirt, but I'm not so sure that I am not conceited. I like babies and embroidery, but I'm not interested in charitable work and I do read the woman's pages in the newspapers. I don't live in a brown-stone house in the Eighties, either, but have a room
up in the One Hundred and Eighties.
I earn my living by teaching a class of little Greek, Italian and Russian children down in an East Side school,
and I don't move in any other society.
I have a bad temper; I'm afraid my pupils suffer a good deal at times. No doubt, I am more studious than most girls but I like the movies and candy and all sorts of frivolous things very much. Now how do you like the re-touching?"

"Well," he admitted gravely, "I rather think it improves the portrait; it makes it so much more human."

They fell silent again, watching the sunshine on the colored trees.

"You are quite right about one thing," said the girl presently. "I love
the trees and the fields and the sky.
I was brought up in the country, and I don't believe I could stand it here in these endless miles of brick and stone, if it were not for the park."

"I come here often myself," the man said. "Do you?"

"Every Sunday afternoon. I like this spot best of all; the view is so beautiful."

"So do I."

The sun had left the trees and they could see the lights of the city twinkling like brilliant stars.

"Do you know," said the man, rising.
"I think my experiment is not going to be a failure, after all, though it has not resulted as I expected."

"Perhaps it won't be," answered the girl quietly.

There was a moment's pause. Then:
"I will say only—good-night," he said.

"Good-night," she answered.

He turned and walked along the darkening path. As he reached the bench he broke into a cheerful whistle.
The girl, smiling, walked briskly away.
She was wondering what she would wear next Sunday afternoon, and he was trying to decide if it would be wise to take a box of candy with him.

other ways galore, until I was blue

Corns Simply Can't Stop Us. We Use "Gets-It!"

In the face and red in the toes. No more for us "Gets-It." It never fails. Touch any corn or callus with two drops of "Gets-It," and "Gets-It" does the rest. It's a relief to be able to stop cutting corns, making them bleed, wrapping them up like packages and using sticky tape and salves. It removes any corn clear and clean, leaving the toe as smooth as your palm. You can wear those new shoes without pain, dance and be frisky on your feet. It's great to use "Gets-It."

"Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-

LAUNDRY WAGON TO RESCUE

Lowly Peace Equipage Instrumental in Rendering Aid to Son of Mars
in Misfortune.

Armored motorcar with half a dozen artillerymen aboard whirling along upper Broadway. Crossing an intersecting street, a sharp gust of wind blows
off the hat of one of the artillerymen and sends it spinning upward into the air, as if it had been knocked off his head by a bit of shrapnel.

A moment later, of course, it drops
to the street pavement to be promptly picked up by a passing citizen, who is naturally anxious to return it to the soldier. But so swiftly was it moving that the armored car got two blocks away before it halted.

The citizen, however, was quite equal to the occasion. At this moment there came along over this crossing and bound in the same direction a laundry delivery wagon and to the driver of this outfit the citizen intrusted the hat.

"Sure!" said the driver, and a minute later—an odd juxtaposition of peace and war—laid the laundry wagon alongside the armored motorcar
and handed the hat over to the artilleryman.—New York Tribune.

Joel Hadley, a teacher at Shortridge high school, has a friend and old classmate, Rudolph Harle, who is spending the winter in Deland, Fla.
Harle sent him a large coconut, a little larger than a man's head. It came wrapped in its natural enveloping shell. The address was written on this shell with ink. The stamps were stuck above it.

The nut is about nine inches long and seven and one-half inches wide.
It is shaped something like a three-sided pyramid. Mr. Hadley has not yet opened the outer shell, for, he says, it makes a good souvenir for future generations, "telling of the efficiency and Piccadilly Again.

It was at Pozieres that an officer of the 8— had an amusing experience. He was working along a communication trench with a party of bombers when he met a regular procession of Boches, all holding their hands well up, and led by one who carried an enormous cigar-box over his head. The British officer suspected some sort of foul play, of course. The Boches have played so many dirty tricks. But the fellow whipped open the big box and showed it had nothing in it but cigars, and explained as well as he could that it was by way of being a sort of propitatory offering. He wound up by saying: "This war no good; no good at all, sir. Piccadilly again soon, now, sir!"—Montreal Herald.

Commanding Respect.

"Are you going to town in your working clothes, Hiram?" exclaimed Farmer Cornsossel's wife.

"That's what I am. When I walk up High street I don't want to be mistook for any city chap. I want to look like I had a barrel o' potatoes or a load o' hay that I might condescend to sell somebody if I took a fancy to him."

Couldn't Take a Hint.

"I'm cold," said the sweet young thing, glancing wistfully at the young man at her side. "I wish I had something around me."

"Really?" replied the slow youth.
"I'll get my sister to knit you a swea-

REVEALS CARNAGE OF WAR

Scenes Witnessed at French Seaport
Base Show Losses That Humanity Has Sustained.

To linger about a seaport base in France is to have more vividly brought home to one the awful carnage of this struggle. Shipload after shipload of men and material are ever discharging,
and trainloads of wreckage are ever returning. As a boy in the pink of health swings down the gangplank at one end of the pier, the stretcher bearers are carrying another boy now limp and broken up the gangplank to a hospital ship at the other end of the pier.

One steamer is discharging new guns
and limbers, and shining equipment, while another is loading all kinds of wreckage which the salvage corps has gathered from the field of battle; broken gun carriages, torn uniforms caked
with mud and gore, rusty rifles, worn boots, bayonets, filthy blankets, belts, knapsacks, shattered shell cases, and a thousand other mute reminders of the tragedy of war.

From the seaport base the newly arrived troops march to the rest camp, situated several miles outside of the town. A rest camp is the strangest form of hostelry imaginable. A great camp of tents and huts, affording momentary hospitality to the troops en route to the front, a mammoth hotel
where 10,000 may arrive in the night
and move off in the morning.

The commandant of the rest camp at Harre said to me once, "I'm the biggest hotel keeper in the world. Last night I was the host to nine regiments,
all of whom were registered for a period of less than twenty-four hours.
One night my hotel may be almost empty and the next I may count my guests by the thousands."

At the rest camp the troops are issued trench supplies and equipment.
If it is winter they get goatskin body jackets, and, parading in this rig, they resemble a mass of Arctic explorers.

GOVERNMENT NEEDS TRAINED MEN

20,000 SPECIALISTS WANTED IN ARMY AND NAVY CIVILIAN BRANCHES.

Washington, D. C., May 1.—How many of us realize what would become of our forces in France if the organization at home for producing the material of war should fail? Charging armies and thundering battlefields are easy to visualize, but not so easy to accomplish. There can be no going "over the top," no paralyzing broadsides, unless, to sustain the blow, there is material in abundance to back up the human effort.

Right now the civilian branches of the Army and Navy are in urgent need of thousands of trained workers, and before this year passes these branches must be increased by at least 20,000. The Ordnance Department of the Army needs great numbers of men who are trained as mechanical engineers, mechanical and other kinds of draftsmen, chemists, metallurgists, and the like. Literally thousands of inspectors are also wanted for the work of passing upon the quality of everything conceivable in the way of ordnance, ammunition, and other munitions. For office work the Ordnance Department wants a great many statisticians, accountants, experts and assistants in business administration, and clerks trained in special lines, such as clerks qualified in business administration, index and catalogue clerks and clerks qualified in statistics or accounting. The Quartermaster Corps of the Army is in need of several thousands of examiners and inspectors of everything that enters into the personal and camp equipment of the soldier. Passenger and freight rate clerks are also wanted in this branch. The Signal Corps of the Army is short of aeronautical mechanical draftsmen. The Navy has an unlimited number of places for draftsmen of various kinds and for a long list of technical workers. Practically all branches of the service are in need of stenographers, typists, bookkeepers, statistical clerks, multi-graph operators, and calculating machine operators.

The United States Civil Service Commission, whose duty it is to fill these civilian positions, urges, as a patriotic duty, that qualified persons offer their services for this work, work vital to pushing the war. Good salaries are offered, and the work is all in the United States. With the exception of a few of the clerical positions, applicants will not be assembled for written examinations, but will be rated upon their education, training, and experience, as

FATHER AND SON WOUNDED IN SAME CAUSE SAME SPOT SAME WAY. NOT SAME WAR

(By International News Service.)

Danville, Ill., May 1.—Father and son wounded in the same cause and in the same way and at the same spot though forty-eight years separate the two actions—this is the record of Professor George Siebert of Danville and his son Corporal William Siebert Battery A. 149th Artillery, in France. The father has just received a letter from Corporal Siebert stating that he had been wounded by a splinter of shell in fighting northwest of Toul. In 1870 fighting over the same ground in Franco-Prussian war the father suffered similar wounds.

VASSAR WOMAN TEACHER.

Miss Agathe Wilhelmina Richrath, instructor of German at Vassar college, has been taken into custody by federal agents charged with circulating pro-German propaganda. Miss Richrath is charged with justifying the sinking of the Lusitania on the ground that it was loaded with bullets "to kill our German fathers." She also is charged with justifying the invasion of Belgium.

It has been known by the federal agents that she has had frequent meetings with Dr. Joseph Stulz and Heinrich Bokisch, two Poughkeepsie residents taken into custody by the federal agents a week ago.

Agents of the department of justice have been gathering evidence against several prominent Poughkeepsie men and the taking into custody of Stulz, Bokisch, and Miss Richrath is said to be the first result of their labors.

Birmingham, Ala., May 1.—"My name is J. P. Beggs. I am the father of H. T. Beggs, who was one of the boys lost on the Cyclops. I also want to do something for my country." The speaker was an elderly, heavy set man, wearing spectacles, and he stood before one of the draft boards while he spoke. Interrogation brought out the fact that he is a skilled mechanic. He was sent to one of the shipbuilding yards.

McADOO ASKS RY. TAXES IN WASHINGTON BE LOW.

(By International News Service.)

Olympia, Wash., May 1.—Governor Lister has been asked by Secretary of the Treasury W. G. McAdoo to assist in every way possible to hold down taxes on railroads in this State to the minimum. McAdoo explains that railroad taxes must now be paid by the Government, whereas heretofore they have been "paid entirely by private owners." This assertion about private owners paying the taxes has caused considerable surprise among State officials, as it has always been contended by the railroads when appearing at hearings that rates must be high enough to include tax charges.

HENDERSON SOLDIER KILLED.

Fritz Hicks, age 39 years, of Henderson, Ky., was killed in battle in France according to a telegram received from Washington by his sister, Mrs. Emma Coomes, 710 Ingel street, of this city. Hicks enlisted only three months ago and had been in France only three weeks. Mrs. Coomes does not know what branch of the service her brother was in as she had not heard from him since his enlistment. A letter from a sister in Chicago stated the body is being sent as far as Hoboken, N. J., by the government and that it will be brought to Henderson for burial.—Evansville Courier.

TERRY MCGOVERN AND JOHN MCCORMACK FINED.

Her Mother ..... Anne Schaefer
Molly ..... Helene Rosson
Mr. Winfield ..... Alfred Allen
Mrs. Warfield ..... Adele Farrington
Preston Winfield ..... Kenneth Harlan
Miss Schuyler ..... Gertrude Aster
Lois Weber and Phillips Smalley have again proven their wonderful ability in "The Price of a Good Time." The producers of "Shoes," "Scandal," "Jewels," "Hydrocrites," "Where Are My Children," "Dumb Girl of Portici," "Even as You and I," "Mysterious Mrs. M." "Hand That Rocks the Cradle," etc. With Mildred Harris and Kenneth Harlan in the leads, and revealing a story of life in the city, is said to be their very greatest masterpiece. More than the usual interest centers in its presentation.

REX TO-DAY.

If you heard a gruff voice order "Tro" up yer hands," and found yourself looking into the business end of four rifles, what would you do? This was the problem which took Allan Corey, young author, but a second to solve, and up went his hands in the play, "Up or Down?" It was well enough to write about heroes giving battle and overpowering whole hand-t bands, but Corey had no desire to try it himself. It was this decision which stamped Corey a coward in the cattle country, where he was seeking Western color for his story, and which nearly cost him the woman he loved.

How he was made a hero against his will by his faithful partner, "Dallas Mike," an ex-convict, and won the hand of Esther Hollister, owner of the Rancho Verde, are the thrilling surprises in this Triangle Western, featuring Geo. Hernandez.

PRINCESS TOMORROW.

Douglas Fairbanks, screen star extraordinary, in his latest play, "The Matrimaniac." It is asserted that the agile and athletic young man outdoes all his previous feats of leaping, swinging, climbing and bounding in his newest picture; also it is announced, he adds to his past program by riding the "rods" of a railway coach and walking from a roof to a telegraph pole along the wires. At the pole he stops long enough to get married by wire, an obliging limeman making the necessary connections with a minister who is in jail and Doug's fiancée, who is locked in a room in a hotel.

REX TOMORROW.

Carlyle Blackwell, Evelyn Breeley and Madge Evans, the three popular stars are all seen in "The Burglar," the startling and unusual new picture. This picture is the filmization of a recently published novel which for many months was one of the best selling novels in the country. "The Burglar" presents Carlyle Blackwell in a role different from the ones he usually plays. It is a thoroughly satisfying production from every angle. It does not lag; it tells an unusual story and it is pleasing. See it.

MORE POWER GIVEN.

The Administration bill giving the President virtual control of the mining of metals essential for war purposes was passed in the House and now goes to the Senate for final vote. Representative Thomas, of Kentucky, was one of two Democrats who opposed the war measure.

GERMAN LIES.

French newspapers, commenting on the recent reports of a revolt in Petrograd, which resulted in the restoration of the monarchy, advised the public to accept the rumors with caution, declaring that it is probable the reports emanated from Berlin.

BIG CARNIVAL
AT PEMBROKE

WILL BE GIVEN UNDER AUSPICES PARENT-TEACHERS ASSOCIATION.

Do you want to see a real live up-to-date carnival, one of the "sure-nuff" kind? If so, be at Pembroke Friday evening between 6 o'clock and midnight. The Parent-Teachers Association has prepared a fine program and made elaborate arrangements to give the patrons of this show some classy entertainment.

The program has many features and some of these will be new and up-to-the-minute performances. There will be a refreshment booth where sandwiches, cakes, hot coffee and tea can be had. One will hand out ice cream and another will sell candies of all kinds to those who have sweet teeth. Then comes the Wild West Show which will be given by the boy scouts. This is some show!

For the love-sick boys and girls and others of a sentimental make-up there will be a playlet called "Memories," rendered by one boy and ten girls. This is a good jelly-bean play. The Hawaiian singers will be worth while and music lovers won't dare miss this. Nor will they want to miss the black-face minstrel show with all the funny jokes of the latest and funniest spiel. There will also be a drill called "Comin' an' Gwin."

Catering to the dream girl and young man who are impatient of the run of worldly affairs and even desiring to look into the future and read their destiny, the show people have prepared for the fortune teller to be there. Some soothsayer, she will be! The greatest show will probably be the Fashion Show. Here all the latest and most typical styles in dress will be shown and living models will tell about each new style and explain all the latest and newest creations. Oh, My! Space will not permit of telling about the many other new features of this carnival. The way to learn all about it and fully appreciate it in all its fullness and glory is to attend Friday evening. Many people all over the country are preparing to attend. Much pains and labor have been used to make this show a superior entertainment and your presence will be appreciated as the proceeds will be used for the benefit of the school, except 10 per cent of the proceeds of the refreshment booth will be given to the Red Cross.

MONEY FLOWS
INTO COFFERS

OF CITY WHEN NEARLY ONE HUNDRED LICENSES ARE ISSUED.

Yesterday was the beginning of a new license period for all business in the city that are required to pay a license tax to entitle them to transact business. All such businesses were supposed to get a renewal or a new license yesterday but up to office closing hours yesterday afternoon many businesses had not applied at the office of Commissioner Wicks.

The total number of licenses issued yesterday was 92, from which was received a total amount of $5,895.83. Eighteen saloon licenses were renewed and $4,500 received for these on the quarterly payment plan. One saloon will not renew its license and will voluntarily go out of business. The saloon to quit business is the Gresham & Waters saloon on 7th street. The remainder of the 92 licenses were for soft drinks stands, cigar stands, pool rooms, hotels, garages, insurance companies, real estate people, restaurants, automobile for hire, etc.

All persons who did not renew their license yesterday are expected to do so at once.

MISS RUBY WEST

AFTER LONG ILLNESS PASSES AWAY—FUNERAL SERVICES THIS AFTERNOON.

Miss Ruby West died yesterday morning at 8:30 o'clock at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. West, after a protracted illness, aged 40 years. She was a milliner up to the time her health failed a year or more ago. She was a consistent member of the Cumberland Presbyterian church. Rev. J. W. Stites, her pastor, will conduct the funeral services this afternoon at two o'clock and the burial will be at Riverside. The deceased is survived by her parents, two sisters and two brothers.

PURELY PERSONALS.

Mr. Lee Gates and family, of Kirkmansville, were shopping in Hopkinsville yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Heltsley, of Kirkmansville, were in the city yesterday shopping and transacting business.

Mrs. M. H. Meacham left yesterday for Washington, to join her husband, who is stationed at the American University.

Messrs. G. E. Gary and James Forbes are in Louisville attending the convention of the Wagon Department of the National Implement and Vehicle Association. They will return Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Cooper will leave this afternoon for General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South. At the Louisville Conference which met here last fall Mr. Cooper was elected a delegate to the General Conference. They will be gone about two weeks. It meets in Atlanta.

DECLINING MAN-POWER.

The Germans in their terrific drive in Flanders and Picardy have lost between 350,000 and 500,000 men. They are able to fill the gaps, but the reconstituted line cannot be as strong as the first, as sluggish troops are used as re-enforcements. In the Noyon sector the Teutons gained a footing in the French trenches, but were driven out in a vigorous counter attack.

REFORM SCHOOL
BOYS USED

AS LABORERS ON OBELISK NOW BEING BUILT IN JEFFERSON DAVIS PARK.

Contractor Gregg, who has charge of the construction of the Obelisk at Fairview in honor and memory of Jefferson Davis, has partially solved the labor shortage problem. Instead of picking up laborers and workmen here and there and everywhere he has brought 15 boys between the ages of 16 and 21 from the Reform School at Greendale near Lexington and is using them in the construction of the Obelisk.

Gen. Bennett H. Young has purchased the old school house and two acres of ground on which the rock quarry is located. The rock quarried is hauled to the crusher located at the base of the Obelisk and is crushed and fed directly into the mixer, which mixes the concrete for the monument.

The old school house of 3 or 4 rooms has been fitted up as a dormitory and the Reform School boys are quartered in this under guard but are not locked up.

Three big auto-trucks are being used daily to haul cement from Pembroke to Fairview. These trucks carry about 5030 pounds each per load. Mr. Gregg is getting everything in readiness to begin adding to the height of this monument and when once begun will proceed rapidly. The Obelisk is to be 351 feet high when completed. Only about 80 feet has been constructed so far but it is claimed that the remainder of the big shaft to be built will require no more work than the big solid base and 80 feet already constructed.

INTERESTING WAR LETTER.

Mr. American Citizen,
U. S. of America.

Dear Sir:

The false rumors and malicious stories constantly being circulated as facts, discrediting our high officials, the Red Cross, the care and conduct of our troops, the conditions of cantonments, etc., is GERMAN PROPAGANDA, intended to create disgust and discontent among our people and to discourage these working for our country.

These stories are accepted as news and fortunately are being given the widest circulation by misinformed patriotic Americans who do not realize that they are aiding our enemies.

The Espionage Act Provides punishment for those who "Convey any false reports or statement, concerning our Government." Those who are fighting for us deserve the fullest measure of our loyalty and support both in word and deed.

I have resolved to close my ears to all such stories and so discourage their circulation. Will you do the same?

Every loyal citizen should assist in stopping those malignant lies, so enlist your friends by mailing today three or four more exact copies of this letter. Do not break the chain.

Very truly yours,
"PATRIOT."

WATKINS SALE TO-DAY.

The public sale of L. W. Watkins, on the McCarty farm near Gracey, will come off to-day. Mr. Watkins, who recently sold the farm, will dispose of the live stock, machinery and equipments used by him in its operation. There will be barbecue on the grounds. Col. A. S. Tribble will be the auctioneer.

LOST THEIR LITTLE DAUGHTER.

Little Katherine White, the bright little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest E. White, died at her home near Casey, yesterday morning at 6:30 o'clock, of meningitis, following measles. She was 20 months of age and was the idol of her doting parents, who have the sympathies of many friends in their bereavement.

TAG DAY FOR NEXT MONDAY

PLANS OF WOMAN'S COMMITTEE COUNCIL OF NATIONAL DEFENSE TO RAISE FUNDS.

Tuesday afternoon at the headquarters of the Woman's Committee, of National Defense, a Health and Recreation Committee was organized. The object of this committee is to furnish some form of recreation for the public by which they will be able to raise money.

For the present they have been asked to co-operate with the Belgian Relief Committee as they are badly in need of money, with which to buy material for the French and Belgian children's clothes. The ladies of the town are willing and anxious to make these little garments, but they can not be supplied until the money is secured.

As the quickest means of getting a start, until some form of recreation can be developed, this committee has decided to set aside Monday, May 6, as tag day. These young ladies will ask each person for a dime, then will give you a tag to show that you have contributed. Please remember that this money is to help clothe the suffering French and Belgian children and is indeed a worthy cause. We hope that all will respond willingly and cheerfully.

This committee is composed of Misses Bess Wallace, Agnes Plack, Emelia Frankel, Lena Clark, Jennie Bush, Frances Summers, and Mrs. Jim Winfree.

Mrs. C. B. Crutchfield, Chairman.
Mrs. T. J. McReynolds, Vice Chairman.

Miss Bertha Cayce, Secretary and Treasurer.

PIE SALE.

The ladies of the Eastern Star will hold a Pie sale at the Kentucky Public Service building next Monday, May 6, for the benefit of the Navy League.
